Council Invites Tenders For Juvenile Rink

No Cows Within Incorporated Area is Council's Ruling — Appointment of Health Officers Considered.

The meeting of the town council, adjourned from Tuesday evening, Sept. 20, was resumed on Friday with all councillors and Mayor Pattinson present.

A motion having been passed Tuesday evening to prohibit the keeping of cows on any lot within the town limits was protested by a delegation of three, representing cow owners in West Coleman. After hearing the case presented by the delegation, the council decided to adhere to their motion of Tuesday evening, prohibiting cows within the town limits. Personal of the delegation included Fred Perestka, Mike Waverman and Steve Korouška.

At 6.30 Friday evening the council had met in Flumerfelt park, behind the tennis courts, and discussed the proposed site for the open air rink. The site was definitely decided upon, and Mr. A. A. Fraser will be asked to survey the land in preparation for construction work. The secretary was ordered to write all local contractors asking them to submit tenders for constructing the rink.

Drs. Rose and Claxton made application for the position of Coleman health officers. According to the application were a number of accounts for medical services to indicate citizens of Coleman. The council, after discussing the matter, will meet Drs. Rose and Claxton on some convenient date when it is possible for all councillors to be present.

Decision to have the cemetery and Hughes' hills graded was left in the hands of the works and property committee. It was also left to the light and water committee to interview Coleman Water and Light company for the purpose of having several more lights installed on Second street.

The case of Thomas Wrobel was again brought before the meeting and Councilman Chapman's action endorsed. Mr. Wrobel has been authorized to get himself a small shack, and the council will supply him with an allotment of groceries each month.

Accounts examined and passed for payment included: R. F. Barnes $17.00, Sentinel Motors $32.70, Provincial $2.00, Knowles $26.75, J. S. D'Appollonia $2,059.80, White Lunch $60, W. M. Gatz $14.40, Walter Bobbitt $54.40, Holy's Grocery $70.50, Spieva's Grocery $14.40, Henry Zak $28.00, Stephen Janosak $28.00, Coleman Cash $42.10, King's Printer $13.50, Coleman Journal $1.00, Coleman Light & Water Co. $192.25, South Memorial Home $12.00, Provincial Treasurer $16.25, J. Gamache $11.00, Motorstore $25.00, Coleman Hardware Co. $11.45, Department of Municipal Affairs $46.

JULES ANCELOT GROWS CHERRIES

By dry cultivation methods, because he has no running water available, Jules Ancelot has had fine success with his garden on the outskirts of suburban Graftonville. This year he had cherries on his trees, and other products were fine watermelons, while potatoes yielded over four tons from a small piece of ground. "I had more beans from my garden this year than ever before," stated Jules, in telling of the success he had, aided by very favorable weather.

Four Persons In Auto Smash Monday Evening

A Bellevue car, with three women and one man as its occupants, suffered much damage on Monday evening when it left the road at a point midway between the bluff at the west end of Graftonville and the old air field, turning over at least four times before settling in an old creek bed which lies alongside the road. The occupants were badly shaken up, suffering from bad cuts and bruises.

Norman Plante, of Coleman, returning from the lake at the west end of the air field, saw the accident and brought them to Coleman, where they refused to go to hospital for medical treatment. The car was towed by Bellevue Motors to their garage at Bellevue. Cost of damage to the car had not been estimated at time of writing.

Horseshoe Pitchers Offered New Locations

Following publication of The Journal last week, wherein it was stated the horseshoe pitchers would have to seek a new location from what they now occupy, two parties approached The Journal offering the players lots on which to play.

George Booth offered his lot on the flat, where the boys can play all day without interference. Sand is also plentiful in that locality. The second party's location is on Fourth street and is a ideally situated. It is most likely this lot will be chosen and with the aid of the town truck, sand will be taken there to build the pitches.

Calgary Brewing Company has been offered a homesteaded organization exists in Coleman, and it is probable the company will present the bill with a cup for annual competition.

C. E. Stockdill To Address Boards of Trade in Pass Towns

Assistant to C.P.R. Vice-President
Probably Here on October 24 or 25.

Under the auspices of the Boards of Trade of the Pass towns, arrangements are being made for the holding of a general meeting here on either of the above dates.

Mr. C. E. Stockdill a past-president of Winnipeg Board of Trade, and well known as the assistant to the vice-president of the Canadian Pacific western lines, stated in a letter to H. T. Halliwell, president of Coleman Board of Trade, that upon his return from attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, he expects to leave for the Pacific coast about October 10.

He also states: "It looks now as if I could attend a meeting in Coleman on the 24th or 25th." Regarding the topic of his address, he will probably discuss generally the place of a Board of Trade in the life of a community, making some general reference to the coal industry.

Mr. Stockdill has taken a very active part, not only in Board of Trade circles in Winnipeg, but in various other community organizations.

Invitations will be sent to all business men and coal company executives in the Pass towns, and the meeting will take the form of a dinner in the evening at the Grand Union hotel. As soon as definite dates are decided on, the information will be passed on to the various Boards of Trade.

A Request for Transportation for School Children

H. M. S. "REVENGE"

WHEN BRITISH SHIPS WERE MADE OF OAK, AND CANNONS WERE MUZZLE-LOADERS

The above picture of Mr. C. F. F. Founds, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff, and the model of the warship "Revenge," will arouse wide interest. The model was made during his spare time, and took about three years to complete. Love of the sea and ships was bred in this gentleman. His father was forty years in the Royal Navy, and saw the transition from old-fashioned armaments to the highly complicated breech-loading guns of the present day, with a range of 20,000 yards. The maker of the above model was a naval cadet at the Hibernian Marine School, Dublin. He served during the Great War in the Connaught Rangers, and was at the landing at Gallipoli Peninsula. He was wounded and invalided home.

Following the conclusion of the war, he came to Canada and has been in the bank's service since. His parents are still living in Cheshire, England.

"THE REVENGE"

1577 to 1591
Though lasting only fourteen years, the "Revenge" earned undying fame. Under Sir Francis Drake, she covered herself with glory in the defeat of the invincible Spanish Armada. Her greatest fame, however, was gained under Vice-Admiral Sir Richard Grandville in the battle off Flores, in the Azores, in 1591. All alone, she fought for a day and a night fifty-three Spanish galleons, and finally surrendered under terms. She was later lost in the storm.

The Revenge was known as a "great ship of the second sort," rated as of 500 tons, with dimensions as follows: length of keel 92 feet, beam 32 feet, depth 15 feet.

With The Old-Timers

tor, which was among Andy's collection of zoological specimens. If a fellow was a bit "snooty" and had dropped off to sleep, someone would take the alligator on his chest. This was sufficient to sober a man pretty quickly, or make him think he had the "snakes" for sure.

In those days life was not quite so tame and conventional as it is today. As their higher of boom days came away, Jim settled down to work for McMillanry Coal Co., and is at present employed with the company.

He knows the country around Crow's Nest so well that during the big forest fires of 1932, which invaded Alberta from the Coburn area, he was summoned "from his regular work to boss a fire-fighting crew on the inter-provincial boundary, and so well were his fire lines constructed that little timber was lost in the area of which he was placed in charge. It was tough work, up the steep mountain sides, and only one with an intimate knowledge of the topography could have succeeded so well.

Though almost on the 60-year mark, Jimmy is very agile and maintains a cheerful outlook on life. Forty-one years in the district is over half of an average lifetime, but he recalls his experiences with many tough spots at times, he passes lightly over them. Jimmy is one of the typical old-timers who saw the early days of railroad construction and early settlement in these mountainous regions. He just seems to be part of the country, like the trees that take root and become familiar landmarks. Possibly he would feel out of place if he were days away from other part of the west, for the love of the hills and the tall timbers gets into a man's blood, and he just can't get it out and surrounding which recall many romantic and dramatic experiences. Railroad building through the mountains was a man's work, and Jimmy as a young man had his full share of pioneering in construction of a section of the great system known later as the Crow's Nest Pass railroad, making available to wide fanning of the country, and the famous bituminous coal, which nature had stored here for countless centuries. Men of Jimmy's type are passing from the scene, as age takes its toll, but as long as they live one always associates them with the adventurous life of the early West.

HEALTH LAWS ENFORCED — OWNER OF COW FINED

For failing to comply with the Dairies Act, Mike Waverman was fined in local police court $5.00 and costs. Constable Antle prosecuted.

The above case is the first under the new ruling made by the council, that no cows will be allowed in any lot within the town limits. It is reported that other cow owners have made no move, mainly through lack of financial support and general interest on the part of the community at large.

Coleman's Town Band Gives Fine Community Service

Practising With View to Develop Better Musicians Under Veteran
Leader, Lead Huribut.

Coleman has always had a band, sometimes good, and at other times not so good, mainly through lack of financial support and general interest on the part of the community at large.

But with that devotion to the cause of music which seems to be bred in every aspiring bandman, there has always been a nucleus of faithfuls to fill the bill at any time a band was needed for a celebration or a funeral.

Now that the longer evenings are here, steady practice have been resumed in the council chamber, and the boys plan on holding a minstrel show to start a fund to purchase uniforms. Such effort should receive widespread support throughout the town.

The list of members at present includes the following: J. Lowe, C. Boughard, Douglas Moores, E. Stiner, Billy Royle, cornets; V. Colongross, tenor; Robert Lowe, Johnny Stevick, alto; Albert Morris, euphonium; Joe Pavlus, John D'Andrea, clarinet; Foss Boulton, Joe Janostak, Fred Beddington, Jr., saxophones; Ted Royle, baritone; Roy Beddington, Andy Thornber, E. flat bass; Clifford Fowler, B. flat bass; H. Wheatcroft, Raymond Johnson, slide trombone; Harry Parkinson, slide drum; Charlie Makin, bass drum. There may be other members or prospective members, but they were not present when the reporter was attracted to the practice room by the harmonious sounds of "March Continues!" and "The Elephants' March" under the baton of Lead Huribut. For eight years he was assistant conductor of the Scouts Band in San Diego, Cal., and he is also a member of Lehigh Valley High School band, having taken a prominent part in the Legion band there.

Fred Beddington, Jr., who for some years has been a janitor, led the band through times in which it was difficult to arouse interest and support, still retains his connection as assistant conductor, and plays a healthy sounding slide trombone to give foundation to the middle section.

All citizens will wish the boys success in their efforts. It is even rumored that one of Coleman's medical men will play a wind instrument, and also that the mayor may take a turn with the band boys. It is surprising the past or "has been" bandmen there are around.

The writer played a flute in the Boys' Brigade, then later played the bass drum and cymbals, graduating finally as a player of the E flat bass, the horn that plays the "day-after" and the "deep, deep, deep" notes that make the buildings tremble. It recalls the old song: "The band; Oh, listen to the band; How merrily they play."

Journal's Carrier Boys Show Enterprise

Many an ambitious boy got a start in delivering newspapers. Five Coleman boys deliver The Journal every week in the incorporated area, Graftonville, East Coleman and Cardendale. With the copies sold at news-stands, in the drug stores and the Palm Confectionery, about 200 copies are sold weekly in addition to the large number which are delivered to subscribers through Coleman post-office and through the postboxes of the Pass towns. In addition, almost a hundred copies are mailed out in sample wrappers to the former Colemanites and others who for various reasons wish to keep in touch with Coleman. They find The Journal the most newspaper and concise medium by which to keep informed.

The delivery boys receive half of the money received for sales, 25c each copy. It gives them an opportunity to build up a paying route, and though it costs a little more than by paying $2 yearly to the office, it enables readers to have the paper delivered promptly at their homes.

Co-operate with the boys by paying them regularly, for they will appreciate it. If any subscriber, who at present is not getting the Journal through the mail, wishes to have it delivered, he can notify the office and arrangements will be made.

Hockey Club Executive Studies League Schedule

Plan to Have Teams Not Having Artificial Ice Play Each Other in Early Games of Season—Campaign for Season Tickets.

Meeting in the board room of The Journal office on Monday evening, the executive of Coleman Canadians started a series of meetings to line up the winter's hockey and rink program.

The schedule for the Alberta senior league was closely studied, and a few changes will be asked to more evenly balance the local clubs home and away games. Learning from experience last year in the Kootenay league, and being ever alert from allowing themselves to be at a disadvantage against their opponents, Coleman will try and change, if possible, some of the opposing teams at the opening of the league. Canadians are scheduled to meet Lehigh Valley, who will have the benefit of probably six weeks' practice on their own artificial ice. Olds, Turner Valley and Drumheller, on the other hand, will be in the same condition as Coleman and will be heavily outnumbered during the opening games of the schedule.

By trying to arrange teams not having artificial ice to play each other at the start, this will prevent teams having artificial ice from picking up easy points at the expense of poorly-conditioned teams. A constant league race that much closer when all teams are playing at top form.

Season tickets will again be sold for all sixteen games at $9.00. The price is only up to November 30, when the price will be raised. At the nine-dollar price, the Coleman season ticket holder 56 cents a game. Reserved seat tickets bought at the wickets each game will cost 75 cents, while general admission will be 50 cents, proving that buying a season ticket this year is a real saving. To prove that the executive wish to play fair at all times with the team's patrons, when games are cancelled, not postponed, season ticket holders will be refunded 50 cents for each game.

Season tickets can be secured from any member of the executive, Dan Gardner, F. Guerdar, A. F. Short, A. Gentile, G. Burchell, F. Abousaif, W. State and A. Balch. The mining companies are also co-operating with the executive, and tickets will be sold at the offices of the timekeepers at both mines. The companies will also oblige by deducting a dollar a pay from each employee wishing to purchase tickets. This allows a period of four and a half months to pay for the tickets while enjoying the games during that period.

Dan Sprague, right winger, from the Winnipeg district, has been issued transportation to Coleman, and will arrive here shortly. He played last year with Reddick.

The executive will again rent the rink from the Arena company, providing suitable terms can be arranged. Applications have already been received from two parties for the position of caretaker.

H. Gardner and Fred Guerdar will represent Coleman at the league meeting to be held at Calgary on Oct. 9.

The Big Four

When one considers that a few simple and inexpensive precautions could prevent a great deal of it, it seems incredible that the annual property loss by fire in the three prairie provinces, despite a general downward curve in the past six years, still hovers around the million dollar mark in each of these provinces.

During the period, 1935 to 1937 inclusive, the annual toll paid to the fire demon in Saskatchewan and Alberta has averaged over a million dollars each with the Alberta figure jumping to a million and a half in 1937. In the same period Manitoba's annual tribute to flames has averaged around $900,000.

Expressed in per capita figures—for that is the true test of the comparative cost of carelessness where fire is concerned—the loss in 1937 ranged from $1.93 per head of population in Alberta to $1.12 in Saskatchewan with the Manitoba loss standing at $1.24 in the same year.

While it is a matter of congratulation that these losses are materially less in each of the provinces than in 1931 and 1932, roughly reduced by fifty per cent., the losses are still much greater than they need be, if a few simple protective measures which are available to every person at very little expenditure of either time or money were adopted, and if people would not forget that danger is ever present where fire in any form is used.

Results Of Forgetfulness

Too much stress cannot be laid on the injunction to remember at all times that where there is fire there is risk, for there are few who have reached the age of discretion who are not aware of the dangers and the measures that should be adopted at all times to minimize them. Disaster is not usually the result of lack of knowledge but of forgetfulness.

That is the reason for the value of fire prevention week. Coming as it does at the season of the year when preparations are being made to maintain warmth for the winter months, it serves as a reminder of the necessity of taking precautions to prevent disaster and loss at a time when danger is accentuated, or rather, when additional risks loom on the horizon.

Analysis of statistics and information in the possession of superintendents and commissioners of insurance show that in the three prairie provinces the bulk of the fire loss is comprised of small buildings and their contents. In 1937 there were comparatively few large conflagrations except in Alberta where large buildings and contents to the value of over half a million dollars at half a dozen points went up in smoke. It also demonstrates that the greatest percentage of loss is in small villages and in the rural districts.

This is not surprising when it is remembered that the cities and larger towns are equipped with efficient fire fighting forces and apparatus, water works and fire alarm systems and a convenient telephone system which protect the urban residents from the consequences of their carelessness. Were it not for these facilities the losses in the urban centres would be appalling.

The information in the possession of these officials also demonstrates that on the prairie the fire demon has four very active disciples—the big four, who serve his cause faithfully. They are (1) Cigarettes and careless smokers; (2) Defective chimneys; (3) Overheated stoves and stove pipes and (4) Gasoline and other inflammable liquids.

The evidence further supports the contention of government officials that the bulk of the loss is sustained first by dwellings and their contents and secondly by barns and other farm buildings exclusive of residences.

Much Is Avoidable

These facts and figures demonstrate very clearly that a very large percentage of this loss could be avoided were it not for lack of thought or lapse of memory.

The information suggests to anyone who cares to give the subject a moment's thought the vital necessity of periodic and careful inspection of all heating apparatus in the home, of the importance of seeing to it that stove pipes and chimneys are cleaned and kept clean and that if a stove is too close to framework for safety to move it out.

The facts and experience demonstrate that natural grass and weeds growing up near a house or other building should be cut, raked up and removed and that hot ashes should not be placed where wind may carry sparks to ignite a combustible structure.

Experience also shows the wisdom, where stubble is to be burned, of sticking to the law which requires that fireguards of 20 feet or more be placed around the field to be burned off and that three men be on hand to prevent the flames from getting beyond control.

If these and other precautions with respect to the use of gasoline, coal oil and ignited smoking materials were strictly observed at all times, the fire losses in the prairie provinces would be reduced to an almost negligible figure, to say nothing of the lives that would be saved and the injuries that would be avoided.

More Doctors Than Lawyers

Canada Has One Physician For Every 1,000 Persons

The last census showed over 8,000 persons occupied as lawyers in Canada, and 544 justices and magistrates, not all of whom were necessarily graduates of law schools, but most of whom are likely to be placed as such. There is thus one lawyer for every 1,200 of the population and as there is one doctor for every 1,000, it would seem to appear that our bodily ills take more looking after than keeping us within the rules by which society governs its actions.—Kitchener Record.

Alfalfa In Surgery

Can Be Used For The Purpose Of Staunching Blood

Alfalfa has become an important item in modern surgery, according to Dr. G. G. Moe, professor of agronomy at the University of British Columbia.

"Alfalfa yields a certain product useful in surgery," Dr. Moe said in an address at a farmers' field day meeting. "This product is applied for the staunching of blood. It causes certain coagulation which stops bleeding."

Glad To Be Back

Italian, Now Canadian Citizen, Likes Freedom Of Dominion

Joseph Festoso, a resident of Stratford, Ont., has returned to that city after spending three months with his parents and other relatives in Italy. Before coming to Canada, several years ago Mr. Festoso had served time in the Italian army. Now he is a naturalized Canadian citizen. When he arrived in Stratford, reports the Petriborough Examiner after reading about it in the Deacon Herald, Mr. Festoso talked with a reporter. Going back to his old home had not made Mr. Festoso think he had made a mistake in coming to this country or in taking out his naturalization papers here. He found the people in Italy were heavily taxed; his own phrase was "to the limit," and he was certain they enjoyed no such measure of freedom as we have here. They cannot come and go and leave their country as Canadians can. Mr. Festoso says it is not right to state people in Italy are all working and happy. Many of them are out of work and many more who are working are not receiving enough to meet the cost of living, which is very high.

The Stratford man says a loaf of bread such as we buy in this country would cost at least forty cents in Italy, and what we refer to as baby beef would be nearly one dollar a pound. The people in his native land are making sacrifices for their country, and it is a process which does not end. When one sacrifice has been made then there is a demand for another. The chief difference between Canada and Italy according to Mr. Festoso is that here one can attend to his own affairs, mind his own business and be left alone. That is what he considers the highest and most desirable form of freedom, and it is something which he did not find in Italy. The man from Stratford was certain the people of Italy did not want any war, but the trouble is they have nothing to say about it.

More Elevator Space

Alberta Pool Needs More Facilities At Vancouver

The Alberta wheat pool is seeking to lease additional terminal elevator facilities at Vancouver. It was learned at the head office in Calgary.

It is possible the pool may take over the Vancouver harbor board's No. 2 elevator, which has a capacity of 1,600,000 bushels.

Negotiations are under way with federal authorities and should the lease be obtained, the additional facilities would increase the pool's storage capacity at the coast to 6,000,000 bushels.

The pool's own terminal at Vancouver has a capacity of 5,500,000 bushels.

For the first time in three years the bulk of Alberta's wheat crop is travelling the western route to the Pacific terminals.

The westward movement is attributed in part to wheat board operations. Pacific coast terminals have a storage capacity of around 21,000,000 bushels.

Drop Foreign Names

But Italy's Night Clubs Anxious For Foreigners' Patronage

Restaurants, cafes and night-clubs in Italy no longer to bear names of foreign origin, according to a circular issued by the National Fascist Federation of Places of Entertainment.

In future no restaurant may be called "Metropole," "Beau Site," "Belvedere" or "Chez Vous," or have an Anglicized Italian name, lest it should recall the period of "artificial refinement" before the Fascist era.

Night-clubs, such as "Monte Carlo Nights," "Bagdad" and "Hollywood," must henceforth be rechristened "Nights," "Villa d'Este" for "Venice," as these names are considered more in keeping with the Italian spirit of to-day.

There is to be no slackening, however, in efforts to entertain foreigners and in all restaurants a proportion of the staff must be able to address guests in their own languages.

For Soil Erosion

Extension Of Forestry To Control Flood Problems

Extension of forest land gives much better mastery of flood problems than other methods, Dr. C. G. Bates of the United States forest service, St. Paul, Minn., said in a paper on "Reforestation and Flood Control" before the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The term "flood control" is rather loosely used to designate both prevention and protection, he said. Forestry's primary concern is prevention. In the U.S. the opportunity for demonstrating the degree to which forest could retard and control water flow was never better.

Dr. Bates discussed principally the flood and farming problems of the great Mississippi Valley, where flood control, either by artificial reservoirs or better use of the natural reservoirs, is inextricably bound up with erosion control. Artificial reservoirs will have a short-lived value so long as sedimentation occurs to the present extent, he said.

It can be shown that well-kept forest land has practically unlimited possibilities for absorbing rainfall and preventing run-off and erosion, and hence that the extension of forest land gives much better mastery of flood problems than any other proposal. The limits are economic, not physical, and hence the problem must be approached in thoroughly practical, non-sentimental manner."

Was Servant Of Public

Prince Arthur Of Connaught Will Not Soon Be Forgotten

Prince Arthur of Connaught was a notable example of a man born to high position, rich in all the material things of life, who yet deemed himself first and foremost the servant of the public, who ever set duties of State before personal indulgence, and who undertook with unflinching cheerfulness onerous as well as simple tasks. His slim figure with its slight limp, was welcome everywhere. He mingled with the humblest as well as with the mighty. He was ever ready with a quip or a word of sympathy—and acts of sympathy more concretely expressed. Both army and navy loved him for himself alone.

Though he had been out of the public eye for some years, owing to delicate health that pursued him all his days, yet he was not forgotten, and there will be made a poignant recollection and many a word of heartfelt regret at his passing.—Montreal Star.

Asks Help Of League

Dr. Wellington Koo Says Million Chinese Have Been Killed

Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate to the League of Nations, told the League assembly that no less than 1,000,000 Chinese had been killed since the beginning of the war with Japan July 7, 1937.

Dr. Koo said 30,000,000 others had been wounded or made homeless. Since Jan. 1, 1938, he said, there have been 2,204 Japanese air raids on civilian populations of China. He said more than 1,000,000 Japanese soldiers now are operating on Chinese soil.

China, Dr. Koo said, asked the League to:

1. Apply Article XVII—which paves the way for mediation in disputes between League members and non-members and is, therefore, a stepping stone to application of military and economic punitive measures.

2. Apply the resolutions of previous League council and assembly sessions by enforcing an embargo on arms, munitions, airplanes, oil, raw materials and cash against Japan and by giving financial and material aid to China.

3. Create new measures to deter Japan from using poison gas and halting bombing of undefended towns and civilian populations.

Started As A Hobby

Now 73-Year-Old Man Enjoys Living Knitting Socks

Celebrating his 73th year, J. R. Webster of St. Helens in West Wawanosh Township, Ontario, believes himself to be a "depression-beater."

Born in Ashfield Township, he worked as a laborer as a young man and worked for a number of years on the famous Joynt estate near Lucknow. Advancing in years when the famous depression came on, he decided to take up knitting as a hobby that might eventually help out financially.

His knitting was confined to socks and soon he began to get a demand for them. Men going up to work in the lumber and pulp camps were hearty in their praise for the "all-wool" products of his hands. The demand increased, and so for the past number of years he has been constantly busy simply "knitting socks."

Asked if he believes knitting to be a woman's job, he just laughs. "Of course it isn't. I like knitting, and whoever says it isn't interesting . . . well, just let him try keeping threads from getting knotted."

Japan Has Average Of Four Slight Earthquakes Every Day

The typhoon which struck the Tokyo area and caused a heavy loss of life and property was nothing compared to the earthquake tidal wave and fire which virtually destroyed Tokyo on Sept. 1, 1923, states the Detroit Free Press.

The property loss from the 1923 disaster was estimated at $2,500,000,000.

And the casualty list included 99,331 known dead, 43,476 missing and presumed to be dead, and 103,733 injured.

Japan is a group of volcanic islands, with an average of four slight earthquakes a day and a very serious one every six or seven years.

We may not like some aspects of their foreign policy, but we cannot help admiring the fortitude of the Japanese—some 70,000,000 of whom are crowded into an area, the tillable acreage of which is less than one-half of that of California—and their ability to take the worst nature can hand them and come up smiling.

DAILY T.C.A. EXPRESS SERVICE UNDERWAY

For weeks the deep throbs of powerful motors has been heard nightly over mountains and plains of western Canada as pilots of Trans-Canada Air Lines have carried on extensive training schedules, perfected technique in radio beam flying, put new equipment to rigid test. Definite announcement relative to commencement of regular services has been made Monday, September 19, marked the inauguration of air express service across the West. Under the schedule Winnipeg is less than eight hours travel from Vancouver. Transport of mail is to begin early in October, feeder lines linking with the main line route at Regina in Saskatchewan and Lethbridge in Alberta. The top photograph shows a Lockheed 14, of which Trans-Canada has 10, landing at Vancouver after a night flight across the Rockies. At lower left is the pilots' compartment with its vast array of instruments, most modern of safety devices and controls. At lower right, mail is being checked into the nose compartment of the plane. A Lockheed 14 cruises at 220 miles an hour, provides luxury accommodation for 10 passengers and a crew of three, boasts cargo capacity of 2,700 pounds.

Britain Plans To Construct Oil Line From Alberta To Coast

London.—The British government is giving consideration to comprehensive plans for development of the Turner Valley oil field in southern Alberta which include construction of a pipeline to Vancouver, it was learned.

It was understood no decisions had been made, although the scheme is being viewed from every angle by admiralty officials. The oil would be used for naval purposes.

The Canadian government has no direct connection with the plan, it was understood, although it probably has been acquainted with the details.

Development of the oil field would come within Britain's vast rearmament scheme, which already extends to Canada in the construction of bombing planes.

Calgary.—"We will give every co-operation to the British government," declared R. A. Brown, Sr., chairman of the Alberta Petroleum Association, here.

Mr. Brown said he was not at liberty to comment on the report the British government is giving consideration to comprehensive plans for development of Turner Valley, Canada's major oil field 45 miles southwest of Calgary.

Mr. Brown indicated British development of the field would be the concern of the Dominion and provincial governments with whom negotiations would be carried on in conjunction with the Alberta Petroleum Association.

"We believe the field should be developed by empire interests, for the benefit of both Canada and the empire," he said.

A German corporation, the Tropeop Incorporated of Berlin submitted an offer to the Petroleum association to build a pipeline from Calgary to Vancouver, and to turn Turner Valley oil, presumably for shipment to Germany, as payment.

"We did not negotiate with the German corporation," said Mr. Brown. "We advised the corporation that the proposal was to be submitted to the proper British and Canadian authorities."

British authorities, said Mr. Brown, have been supplied with complete data on the Turner Valley field; its potential output, now rated at 52,000 barrels of crude oil daily and the feasibility of using the Alberta product for naval and aeroplane fuel.

Many British visitors to the field have expressed its importance to the empire in time of war and recently Sir Edward Ellington, member of the British air mission to Canada, visited Turner Valley.

The British plans under consideration were reported to include the construction of a pipeline to Vancouver, a distance of nearly 1,000 miles. Cost of a pipeline to the coast port, it has been estimated, would be approximately $16,000,000.

Millions of dollars have been spent in the development of Turner Valley where oil was first discovered prior to the Great War. Early wells were aphid and gas producers and it was not until June, 1937, that the first crude producer was brought into production.

For more than a year the wells have been on a prorated schedule, limiting production to prairie market demand. The present allowable daily production is 22,000 barrels.

A New Campaign Is Started To Remold League Of Nations

Geneva.—Great Britain has started what was considered a campaign to remold the League of Nations into a form attractive to Germans and other former members.

It was even reported in diplomatic quarters that a part of Prime Minister Chamberlain's current Godesberg conversations with Adolf Hitler would be aimed at bringing Germany back into the league fold.

Britain's moves before the league assembly's political committee were believed in league quarters directly connected with her policy in the Czechoslovak crisis.

Richard Austen Butler, parliamentary foreign undersecretary, asked that the question of cutting the league off from the Treaty of

Windsor Man Not Impressed By Fortune He May Receive

Windsor, Ont.—A manual training instructor in Windsor public schools, 52-year-old Norval McKim remained unimpressed with news he had become the heir-apparent to half of $110,000. No matter what happens he'll keep on working.

McKim and his sister, Mrs. Judson Ball, Tillsonburg, may each inherit half the estate of William T. Hind, Moosemin, Sask., as a result of the decision handed down by a judge in king's bench court in Regina, Sask.

The estate was awarded by the court to the late Robert McKim, Norval's father, who died a month ago. The father lived here with his son for some time prior to his death. "I'd be more impressed if I had the cash in my pocket," McKim said.

Americans Warned

U.S. Minister At Prague Advises Nationals To Leave That Country

Washington.—The United States minister at Prague, Czechoslovakia, warned Americans to leave that country.

State department records show that on Jan. 1, 1938, there were 5,100 Americans in the country, but many of them are believed to have departed in recent weeks.

President Roosevelt conferred with his cabinet about the new war threat abroad and talked also with Bernard Baruch, chairman of the war industries board during the Great War.

Roumania Is Nervous

Placed In Bad Spot And Wants To Know What Allies Will Do

Bucharest.—Roumania — first nation exposed to Germany after Czechoslovakia—would like to know what strategic line Great Britain and France have decided to take to resist the reich's "drive to the east," and when they intend to say a firm "no" to Germany.

Only that the Bucharest be able to formulate its policy, high Roumanian circles indicated.

Soviet aid apparently presents risks Roumania would not like to run at the moment. Italy, in the eyes of observers here, has become a German vassal.

Shipping Gold To U.S.

New York.—Arrival of an additional $15,800,000 of foreign gold recently boosted the movement into the United States of yellow metal during September so far to $112,518,000. This, according to banking circles, marked a new high in gold shipments for a similar period since the movement started several weeks ago. They say the flow has been created by the crisis in central Europe.

No French In School

Calgary.—Calgary will not have a French school for the benefit of the children of French Catholics. Several months ago a committee of French-speaking ratepayers requested the Calgary separate school board to open a French school. The application was refused at a meeting of the board.

Versailles be considered immediately. He said the committee of 10 jurists, appointed by last year's assembly to study the question, reported favorably on separation of the league covenant from the Versailles pact.

If such a move took place it would remove what German and Italian observers have called the league's "stigma of Versailles." This also would leave little room of the peace treaty that ended the Great War than some of its territorial changes.

Mr. Butler's next move before the political committee was to strike from the covenant—at least from the British government's interpretation of it—the last hint of unconditional obligation to apply punitive measures against an aggressor nation.

Ship Grain East

Terminals At Pacific Coast Filled To Capacity

Calgary.—Grain terminals at the Pacific coast have absorbed all the wheat possible to store at the present time with the result that grain trains from Alberta are now moving east to the head-of-the-lakes.

Officials of the Canadian wheat board here stated that while coast terminals are at capacity, what with grain already stored there and trains now en route, Alberta farmers will still be paid on the basis of Vancouver shipments despite the fact that the grain will be moved east for some time.

Until the past week nearly 85 per cent. of the shipments were moving to the west coast, according to railway reports.

The grain movement from Alberta points is the heaviest in 10 years, railway officials said. In the Alberta district car loadings to date this year total 11,979 compared with 4,378 a year ago. From Sept. 1 to date, loadings totalled 9,901 as compared with 3,395 for the same period of 1937.

Facilities at Calgary are taxed to the utmost. Four hundred cars of grain were shipped from the Calgary district in one day.

Proposals Considered

Ottawa Discusses Revisions Of Canada-United States Trade Treaty

Ottawa.—Proposals brought from Washington by the Canadian mission negotiating for revision of the Canada-United States trade agreement were considered by cabinet council but no details were announced.

Following the weekly meeting, Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of natural resources, acting in place of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, is ill, said the Canadian negotiations were "pretty well advanced," but he would make no forecast as to when the new agreement would be signed.

It is understood negotiations for an Anglo-American agreement, carried on simultaneously with those between Canada and United States, may have a definite connection with the Canadian agreement and may delay its conclusion.

Mr. Mackenzie King is much improved, his office reported, and almost recovered from an attack of sciatica.

Postponed Further Trials

Eyston Abandons Another Attempt This Year To Raise Record

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah.—Captain George Eyston, of London, drove his mighty "Thunderbolt" through the measured mile but encountered motor trouble and postponed an assault on his own world automobile speed record of 357.5 miles per hour. Eyston's official time was announced as 349.85 miles per hour. He abandoned further attempts this year to raise his record after his giant racer was damaged in a careening five-mile run.

Jewels Have Been Found

Were Lost When Plane Crashed In Italy Last May

Rome.—The fortune in jewelry lost May 1 in the plane crash in which 19 persons were killed while returning from the Tirana wedding of Albania's King Zog was recovered at Naples. The jewels, valued at almost $300,000, turned up in the possession of two persons who had purchased them for nothing from peasants who found them near the scene of the crash and had not realized their value.

Revise Foreign Policy

Russia Reported To Be Turning Its Back On Europe

Moscow.—Dramatic revision of Soviet foreign policy — turning its back on Europe, its eyes on Asia — has been suggested by some diplomats as a probable result of Anglo-French pressure on Czechoslovakia to give Germany new territory.

Official observers believed Moscow's influence on the policy of western European states will have dwindled almost to the vanishing point should Czechoslovakia be "neutralized" by German encroachments.

The government newspaper Izvestia published a warning saying "the fate of Czechoslovakia is the fate of France."

Government sources have suggested in press articles a German victory in Czechoslovakia automatically would mean Roumania and other Danubian states would adjust themselves to German hegemony and abandon all hope of support from France, their former protector.

Poland already aligned with Germany in plans for gaining minorities at Czechoslovakia's expense — was considered by Moscow definitely in the German camp.

Consequently many believed the Soviet union, diplomatically encircled by the western frontier, might turn her back on Europe and seek to exercise a dominant influence in Asia.

A hint of this was given in Pravda, Communist party newspaper, which editorially warned Britain and France the procedure they were contemplating in central Europe might turn against them in Asia or Africa tomorrow.

Office Records Used

Reason Veterans Have Difficulty In Securing Pension States Captain Gilman

Winnipeg, Capt. C. P. Gilman, of Ottawa, Dominion adjustment officer of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, told delegates to the association convention one of the reasons many disabled ex-servicemen had found it difficult to secure pensions was because pension documents dealt more with office files than with the actual physical examination.

Brother Of Louis Riel

Winnipeg.—Alex Riel, last surviving brother of Louis Riel, organizer of the Northwest rebellion of 1885, is dead. Mr. Riel was born in the St. Vital district, just south of Winnipeg, and lived there all his life. He did not take part in the rebellion.

France Mobilizes Vast Army Reserves For Eventualities

Paris.—The French government formally decreed partial mobilization of its vast reserve army, calling up two groups to the colors in preparation for any eventuality in the Czechoslovakian-German crisis.

The number involved was not known at once, but the order was said semi-officially to be the last step before a general mobilization. Even before the order was posted on official buildings in Paris, the number of reservists to be called up was doubted.

The order called up all army and air reservists with the "white" mobilization cards bearing "the number three." It was the first formal mobilization order issued since the crisis began.

Before being posted they had been extended to include all reservists with white cards numbered "two or three."

A semi-official explanation said troops were being called up to bolster covering troops behind the frontiers, where troops already were under arms at battle posts.

Reports circulating in well-informed circles close to the government said 10 divisions had been ordered to the German frontier to reinforce troops already on duty in the Maginot line of border fortresses.

The order was entitled "immediate recall of certain categories of reservists."

The text: "By order of the minister of national defence and war and of the minister of air, officers, non-commissioned officers, men holding the facsimile mobilization order in white, bearing the figure three, all report immediately and without delay, without waiting for individual notification."

"They will assemble at the place of convocation indicated on their order or facsimile of mobilization in the condition outlined by that document (signed) The Ministers of National Defence and War and Air."

French troops already along the German frontier were ordered to battle posts. During the crisis an estimated 2,000,000 men have been kept under arms, including some reservists called to service by the usual individual notification process. Sweeping promotions in the army.

were disclosed. Forty-five officers were involved. Eleven new major-generals were made, 23 were promoted to be brigadier-generals and the commands of 11 brigade commanders were shifted.

Major-General Aube, a member of the superior air council, was given command of pursuit aviation, concentrating it with his other commands of aerial defence and anti-aircraft defence.

Paris continued its precautions to safeguard the city from surprise air raids. Lists were posted in all parks and police stations of the safest cellars in each district.

Had No Significance

Lord Baldwin's Visit To King George Just Friendly Call

London.—"No special significance should be attached to Lord Baldwin's audience with the king," said a Buckingham palace spokesman after the former prime minister had been in conversation with His Majesty for more than an hour.

In the face of divided public opinion on the Czech crisis, reports were quickly whispered Lord Baldwin's call pressed an important political move.

Lord Baldwin, who has been absent on the continent for some time, called on the king, as he has often done before, and as an elder statesman gave His Majesty his personal views on the European situation," said the spokesman.

Set New Record

One Day's Grain Marketings In Lethbridge Totalled 800 Carloads

Lethbridge.—All-time records for grain marketings in a single day were marked up on the Lethbridge division of the Canadian Pacific.

Farmers poured into the elevators a total of 1,177,000 bushels of wheat and 8,000 bushels of other grain Sept. 19 to establish the record. This is equal to about 800 carloads and would require 23 trainloads to move to the main line. The wheat delivered weighed 35,810 tons.

Army General Is At Head Of New Cabinet In Czechoslovakia

Prague.—President Eduard Benes called on his army to protect the Czechoslovak people against "unfriendly elements" as he went to attempt to arouse enemy toward the government in the tense atmosphere of foreign pressure on Czechoslovakia.

The president's communication to the armed forces came a few hours after a new cabinet, headed by General Jan Syrovsky as premier, assumed the control of the government.

An official communique declared the Syrovsky government was one of "order, controlled strength and experience."

It added that although the new government is headed by the Czechoslovak army's inspector general it is not "a military government," terming the cabinet "not an expression of political parties, but of work for the republic."

"In this day our nation is experiencing a deep sorrow," the president's message told the soldiers.

"Unfriendly elements are trying to use this sorrow to arouse a spirit of enmity toward the government, but you must remember that in this difficult time the uneasy people look to the army for security—the army for which everyone gave material sacrifices."

Syrovsky's cabinet was formed to cope with rising indignation over surrender of the republic's Sudeten areas to Germany.

The veteran campaigner, considered friendly towards Soviet Russia, succeeded Premier Milan Hodza, whose cabinet resigned in the face of resentment against the government's capitulation to Anglo-French pressure designed to appease Chancellor Hitler and forward the cause of European peace.

General Syrovsky, emerging as the republic's strong man in the hour of its greatest crisis, took over the war ministry portfolio in addition to the premiership.

He lost an eye while fighting in the famed Czech legion with the Russian armies against Germany and Austria during the Great War. It was during this service that his warm friendship developed with the Russians.

He over from the Hodza cabinet was Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta, who shared with President Eduard Benes and Hodza the decision to cede Sudetenland to Germany.

It appeared certain the army would have greater influence in dictating policies of the new regime, which the aroused Czechoslovak people called upon to resist further sacrifices.

Benes described the new cabinet in a nation-wide broadcast as "a government of national solidarity."

Before the cabinet was announced, it was said outside government offices that selection of General Syrovsky would be offensive to Germany because of his service with the allies during the Great War.

By the same token, it was said in these circles that he was considered too friendly towards Russia to suit the Nazis.

Benes, in his address, hinted new negotiations on a broad scale might give a new aspect to the gloomy prospect presented by clamoring on all sides for separation of her other minorities as well as the Sudeten Germans.

"Wait patiently," he said. "Our people have always been sensible and realistic."

Speaking with great emotion, the president pleaded with his people to have confidence and promised the nation would not depart from its traditional policies of democracy and independence.

It was said in informed quarters on Government hill that influences from abroad were directed not so much towards Hodza as at Benes himself.

King Boris and Queen Joanna of Bulgaria are shown as they sighted from their car in front of the Ritz Hotel, London. Bulgaria was aligned with Germany during the Great War, but King Boris is understood to be distinctly favorable to Great Britain and France in the crisis over Czechoslovakia.

Current Comment on Local Events

THE INFLAMMABLE impassioned oration of Chancellor Hitler lasting for over an hour, and the eleven-minute calm address of Premier Chamberlain, were in striking contrast. Of the first, there was plenty of braggadocio, telling of the mighty armaments built up by Hitler; of the second a calm statement of fact showing that every effort is being made to prevent the holocaust of another European war.

RADIO'S great advantage is that it gives people the world's vivid impressions of the men who are speaking. On them great responsibility rests, and for that reason no words should be spoken which would inflame the public mind. Hitler's radio address, even to those who did not understand the German language, was full of potential dynamite, calculated to arouse the people to fanatical patriotism which ignores calm, reasoned judgment. Even though Hitler's sincerity in his ambition to extend the boundaries of Germany is justified because of what he claims were the unfair terms of the Versailles peace treaty following the Great War, he alienates sympathy by his bombastic utterances and abuse of the statesmen of other countries. A dictator must necessarily be a propagandist, and unquestionably Hitler's radio address was delivered with the aim of securing a large amount of hero-worship from his own people.

THE MESSAGE of British labor organizations to the people of Germany, to our mind should be one of the most forceful influences for averting war. A very timely comment was made by Henry Ford, to the effect that "war is on its last legs because now it can get around and kill the fellows behind the lines, those fellows who create war."

COUNCILS OF cities, towns and villages are subjected to much criticism, no matter what they do. They are elected primarily to safeguard the welfare of their constituents, in matters of health, wealth and all other things under the sun. Because the provincial health authorities have brought certain matters to the attention of the council which are a menace to the health of the whole community, and this has been brought to public notice through the proper channels, (through council meetings and the Press) personal criticism has crept in. The council has to be upheld, as well as health officials, or all would suffer from the actions of those in whom self interest might be uppermost.

TAKE one matter alone—the keeping of cows within the incorporated area of the town. This menace has been tolerated for many years, until a firm stand has been taken and all those not complying with the Dairies Act (a provincial statute) must bear the consequences. Again, the danger of contamination of the water supply was pointed out by provincial health officials, whereby the council was forced to take action. Far better to prevent an epidemic of disease than to cure it. The welfare of the whole must be protected as against the interests of a few.

COMPLAINTS from various widely scattered points in the Dominion show that parents are protesting against the frequent changes made in the text books for school children. It seems that every year new frills are introduced, or new text books are required, causing to small-salaried parents an expense they can ill afford. At one time Johnny could hand on his books to Mary, and thereby avoid their parents having to buy a new set of books. So many useless things appear to be taught that one asks the question—is our highly-touted educational system of the value claimed for it? We leave the answer to parents whose children through lack of funds are not able to continue studies beyond high school, but have to strike out and get a job almost anywhere, where there is work to be done. And it is the working people who cannot afford to send their children to university who have to help pay the taxes for the cost of higher education. Universities in these western provinces are not endowed or kept up by wealthy people, but by all the people, you and I. If every taxpayer were given a statement showing the items for which he pays taxes, and the amounts against each, he would then realize what a lot of things, which he doesn't give much thought to at present, are costing him. That's the plan followed in one of the States, and they have no debt there, because a plan of pay as you go has been put into effect.

IT IS a fact that despite music and singing being taught in the schools, local churches cannot organize choirs of young people. Any one of our churches bears witness to this. A few faithfuls from a sense of duty lead the singing or play the organ. They do their best, even though their timing and rhyming may not be up to the standard of a trained choir. And they are to be commended for their devotion to a good cause. They set a good example to we who sit in the pews, or do not go to church at all. But it emphasizes the contention that money we spend on the tuition of certain subjects in schools bear no relative value whatever. Might better teach the children to saw wood and darn stockings than waste their time on things that seem to produce so little results.

HOW much more sensible it would have been for Premier Aberhart to try and bring about reform by constitutional methods instead of wasting time and money on fruitless legislation. The Canadian constitution cannot be brushed aside at the whim of a provincial premier, who must realize by this time the futility of his rabble-rousing tactics. Appropriating $100,000 for political propaganda will surely act as a boomerang. "The Case for Alberta," which Premier Aberhart refused to place before the Rowell Commission, and published in a book of over 400 pages, with a gold printed cover, selling at $2.25 a copy, is a waste of public funds. The bargain period at $1.25 a copy expired on September 15. Pressure salesmanship is now being exerted through the Prophetic Bible Institutes of Calgary and Edmonton.

THE SPANISH civil war and the Jap-China war it is presumed are still proceeding, though there has been no front page news about them for some time. Probably they will die out for lack of publicity.

The Value of Your Local Newspaper in Local Business

THE COLEMAN JOURNAL plays an important part in all local affairs. It employs wage-earners whose homes are in the town from which it secures business. These wage-earners pay taxes, support churches, make their contributions to local appeals, take part in community organizations, and spend most of their wages with local merchants. It is no idle boast that it has been the means of giving well-directed publicity to Coleman and its coal-mining industry.

There is no business institution which gives so much free service as a local newspaper. Were a merchant asked to give the equivalent in goods that the newspaper gives in free service to all local organizations, he would find it impossible to meet the demand.

When money is spent for printing or advertising with your local printing office, you are helping local printers to help you. You make it possible for them to serve you better. Out-of-town printing salesmen take money out of the community—paying no taxes, buying nothing from local stores, getting all they can and not caring whether you sink or swim.

As merchants expect customers to be loyal to their own community in buying goods from them, so might merchants remember they, too, should follow the same ideals in regard to their local printing office.

IT'S GOOD BUSINESS FOR ALL OF US!

Customer goodwill in Coleman can best be developed by regular advertising in Coleman's community newspaper. The money spent for advertising, and printed matter, goes back to local merchants in increased trade.

Lethbridge Herald Makes Editorial Comment on The Journal's Industrial Edition of Sept. 15

If the local newspaper mirrors the community enterprise, this can well be said of the Coleman Journal.

In what may be said to be the post-depression period the special edition of the Coleman Journal serves to show that the towns of the Crows Nest Pass have not been discouraged by a temporary setback, but, firm in faith and courage, are repairing broken fences to resume their place in the orderly routine of business. This is evident from the array of advertisements in the special industrial edition, showing the various businesses which are keeping up their heads.

The "moving finger" which runs through the edition points to various activities denoting the steady development of the town of Coleman and its sister towns of the Crows Nest Pass. The special edition is one of which any newspaper can be justly proud, and what must delight the heart of the proprietor and editor is the community co-operation which has made it possible.

Coleman Cubs Missed Softball Championship

Delroy Team Won in Two-Game Series by 14-11 in Spirited Contest Last Sunday.

Delroy team, pinch-hitting for Edmonton, in the final of the provincial intermediate softball championships, are intermediate champions by virtue of a 14-11 decision over Coleman Cubs in a two-game series played here on Sunday. Edmonton, by failing to keep their engagement with Coleman on Sunday, Sept. 18, had their challenge thrown out by the softball association.

Delroy made an erratic start in the first game, allowing Coleman to score three runs in the first inning. McGregor, pitching for Delroy, then settled down and pitched good ball the rest of the game. The northerners overtook Coleman in the fifth inning with a four-run attack which, added to the two runs scored in the second and fourth innings, gave them a 6-3 edge. Delroy again scored in the sixth inning to take a commanding lead, 7-3. Coleman, facing this four-run deficit, injected a fighting spirit into their line-up, which resulted in one run being scored in the eighth. With two men down in the ninth inning, Coleman really went to town, aided by three errors by Delroy. Four runs crossed the plate for Coleman amidst the noisy rooting of the fans, to give the locals an 8-7 edge in the first game.

Delroy, in the second game, were out to win, and lost no time in scoring runs. Foregotti, who had pitched for Coleman in the first game, was sent in to pitch the second. He had trouble from the start and was taken out in the third inning, when he allowed runs in the first and second innings, and had allowed two runs in the third, with Delroy still at bat. Jenkins was sent in to pitch, and soon retired the side without further scoring. Coleman never threatened in the second game as McGregor, pitching his second game, never weakened and kept Coleman well in control. The final score found Delroy out in front by a 7-3 margin to take the series 14-11.

First game—
Coleman ————— 300 000 014-8
Delroy ————— 010 141 000-7
Foregotti and Sanderson; McGregor, McLaughlin and Morris.

Second game—
Coleman ————— 011 001 000-9
Delroy ————— 112 001 011-7
Foregotti, Jenkins and Sanderson; McGregor and McLaughlin.

Striking Anniversary Edition of Huntingdon Gleaner

Example of Community Service and Newspaper Enterprise Demonstrated in Observing 75th Anniversary.

The Huntingdon Gleaner, weekly newspaper of the town of that name, in the province of Quebec, published its 75th anniversary edition on September 21. It contained 46 pages or eight columns each, and was profusely illustrated with photographs and illustrations of local people and institutions. Adam L. Sellar, president and editor of The Gleaner, is a past president of Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, and is still a young man. He is one of the most enterprising weekly publishers in the Dominion. That his service to the community is appreciated is indicated by the following extract from the leading editorial of the special edition. He states:

"The fact that three of our councils saw fit to acknowledge the services The Gleaner accorded the council, and municipalities during the past 75 years is a source of pride to us. The full page advertisement of the council was headed by the following: 'The Town of Huntingdon congratulates The Gleaner upon passing the 75th milestone of service to this community and hopes for a continuance of the success in the future it has richly deserved in the past.' Photographs of the mayor and council accompany our message. It is a striking issue of historical interest, and shows the importance and value of a live weekly newspaper to the community in which it is published. Editor Sellar fully deserves the compliments that have been extended to him from all parts of the Dominion on his achievement.

The paper was founded by the late Robert Sellar on Sept. 18, 1863.

The Churches

ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH

Rev. J. R. Hague, Incumbent.
Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity—10 a.m., Sunday school; 7 p.m., Evensong and sermon.

Read St. Luke, 13: 25, 29, 30.

Wars between nations rocked the ancient world to its foundations. The issue in which it is meted out in our days the world over; in Spain, in Africa, in Russia, Germany, Italy, China, Japan, Great Britain and America.

From the view point of religion, it is something more than a quarrel over markets, or over sources of raw material, or a struggle between rival political groups. It is a struggle, not between two contending groups, but three; and the concern of God is not the defeat of one nation by another, but the victory of the better way of human co-operation over the selfish seize-and-hold method that prevails in the jungle.

In all nations there are some who see this, and many who do not. It is the church's task—unarmed in the midst of conflict save with weapons of the Spirit—to proclaim the truth as God gives us to see it. In God's judgment, what matters is not possessions, few or many, or victories in war; but the advancement of human welfare in just that area where one's responsibilities lie. Human pride and egotism, exaggerated into insane nationalism, is cursing our world and threatens to destroy all that is left of human civilization.

You are cordially welcome at St. Alban's church. Your fellowship and co-operation are earnestly desired.

RALLY DAY AT UNITED CHURCH

Only Financed Prospector Has Any Opportunity In Yellowknife

There is no place for the transient in the Yellowknife gold field, two officials of the mines and resources department, back from a tour of inspection of schools, hospitals, government offices and mining districts in the Northwest Territories, reported at Ottawa. Yellowknife, on the north shore of Great Slave Lake, is Canada's newest mining centre.

The financed prospector, the hard rock miners and construction workers have a chance for employment during the field season in the Yellowknife field, Canada's farthest north gold workings, but even those should have guaranteed jobs before departure. For others there is no work, said R. A. Gibson, director of the lands, parks and forestry branch, department of mines and resources, and A. L. Cumming, Mackenzie district superintendent.

Travel around the field is almost entirely by aeroplane, though the trip to Yellowknife may be made by boat. It costs a lot of money to get around and there are no facilities for the care of the stranded.

All food must be purchased. Meat can be bought from the Indians who have exclusive hunting rights. Non-perishable vegetables and other foods are brought in by boat and taken to the mining camps by planes. Fresh vegetables are imported by plane from Peace River and Edmonton. Plane rate for fresh fruits and vegetables from Peace River to Yellowknife is 27½ cents a pound.

Both sides of the Yellowknife River, for many miles north of the town of Yellowknife, are staked out. Prospectors, usually taken in by plane, are busy for many miles east and west of the staked territory and new finds may bring new settlements in the near future.

Since gold was discovered in the Yellowknife territory four years ago there has been an influx of prospectors from Ontario and Quebec, veterans who have backing. The field is not positively proven. It is not known whether ore values found on the surface persist at depth and it will be two years or more before the importance and extent of the field is determined.

Meanwhile the new mining camps grow in population and activity. In and around Yellowknife there are approximately 1,000 white people. The sub-mining recorder at Yellowknife is the town's policeman and the medical health officer acts as sanitary inspector.

Friendship Of Hungary Now Sought

By Succession States

With Germany on the one hand and all the Succession States on the other competing for the friendship of Hungary, the situation in that quarter of the world may be said to have turned upside down.

The break-up of the Austro-Hungarian Empire after the war resulted in heavy loss for Hungary in territory and population.

Before the war there was no such place on the map as Czechoslovakia. It was carved out of the territories of Austria-Hungary by the men who made the Treaty of St. Germain. Rumania and Jugoslavia also profited by the destruction of the Hapsburg Empire.

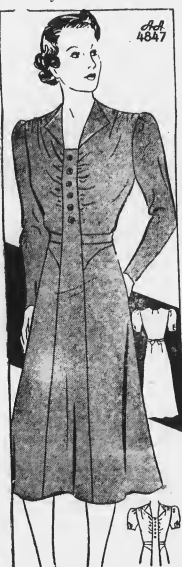

The Succession States as they are called, have hitherto regarded Hungary as their natural enemy.

Now they are making non-aggression pacts with her, while Germany is showering honors on Admiral Horthy, the head of her Government. Hungary is valuable to both because nature has made her a sentinel on the banks of the Danube.

Each wants the friendship of the sentinel.—News of the World.

Youthful Scientist

New Device Records The Vitamin A Content Of The Human Body

Invention of a device which determines the vitamin A content of a human system in 30 seconds was announced at Edmonton by Dr. Lionel Bradley Pett, youthful university of Alberta lecturer-scientist. Lack of vitamin A is related closely to "night blindness", colds and other diseases of the nose and throat, Dr. Pett said.

The device, simple in appearance but actually mathematically involved in its construction, outwardly resembles a circus midway "peny" machine. Starting into the peep-booth, a patient's eyes are dazzled by a strong light shining on white paper.

The length-of-time taken for the eyes to return to normal shows any deficiency in vitamin A content, Dr. Pett explained. "Slight" recovery time for a person whose system contains the proper amount of vitamin A apparently is nine seconds, my experiments have shown," he said.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

OCTOBER 2

THE ONE TRUE GOD

Golden text: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, and with all thy might. Deuteronomy 6:5.

Lesson: Exodus 20:2, 3; Isaiah 45:22; Mark 12:28-34; I. Corinthians 8:4-6.

Devotional reading: Psalm 67.

Explanations And Comments

The First Commandment, Worship God Exclusively, Exodus 20:2, 3. The Decalogue, or Ten Commandments, is introduced by a statement reminding the children of Israel of what they owed the Lord their God, for it was he who had brought them out of their bondage in Egypt. It is an appeal to history, recalling God's care in the past, and implying his care in the future. They could not fail to acknowledge his right to impose laws upon them and to expect them to live up to them.

"At Sinai God enabled his great servant Moses to select the best of existing laws and also to make such additions to them as experience had proved necessary. Hence the Ten Commandments sprang from a twofold source—the will of the Creator and the felt need of his creatures." (S. Parkes Codman).

"Thou shalt have no other gods before me. No other gods are to be preferred to Jehovah, nor are any others to be worshipped as well as he. When these laws were promulgated from Sinai, the world was given over to the worship of many gods. The first commandment forbids polytheism, the worship of false gods."

The Only God, Isaiah 45:22. Through the mouth of his prophet, God proclaims himself as the only God, all-powerful. "Beneath every religious truth is the unity of God. Behind every great movement is the personal initiative and urgency of God. And revelation is, in its essence, not the mere publication of truths about God, but the personal presence and communication to men of God himself" (George Adam Smith).

Adopts New Scheme

Motorcycle Police In Aberdeen To Be Equipped With Radio

Police men cycling round lonely beats in Aberdeen, Scotland, are to be linked by radio with headquarters just like mobile officers in cars.

Aberdeen is the first place to adopt the scheme. Two-way three-valve radio sets designed by the police themselves, are to be carried on their cycles.

The men will be able to receive calls from headquarters and talk back as well. The radio sets will be carried inside a bag behind the saddle; the receiver-microphone will clip on the handlebar.

What is Meant By Unification?

Subscriber Offers Definition in a Summary of Evidence—Opposing Opinions Expressed Before Senate Committee.

Mr. _____, a subscriber to The Journal, has written us, asking what exactly is meant by the word "unification" as applied to a solution of Canada's railway difficulties. The following definition is a summary of evidence submitted before the senate committee which was appointed last session "to enquire into and report upon the best means of relieving the country from the extremely serious railway condition and the financial burden consequent thereto."

1. Unification of the railways means that the entire operations of both systems would be combined under the direction of a single board. This board would be made up of representatives of each railway and of the government.

2. Both railways would continue to own their own properties. The C. P. would not take over the C. N., and the government would not take over the C. P.

3. There would be no guarantee of interest or dividends to the C. P.

4. Profits of the unified railway would be turned back pro rata to the C. N. and C. P.

5. Strict supervision would be made by a strengthened board of railway commissioners, to ensure against the unified company's neglecting its duty as a public utility and depriving any community of necessary railway service.

6. No plan of unification would be embarked upon without complete adequate provision for the protection of the rights of the railway workers.
